Section-A

Seen Passage

A] Read the passage carefully and answer the following questions.

I am in Kaziranga National Park on an early morning safari and we are tottering around the forests on an elephant's back. Although I would have preferred the jeeps, I was told that the morning safari at dawn is usually on an elephant's back as we head out into the jungles, amidst the dense grasslands. I have often wondered why the tall, dry grass, reaching out now to tickle my back is referred to as elephant grass. Cutting through the wilderness at dawn, I realise that some patches have been burnt but we are enveloped by these grasslands as we slowly amble away. It is still dark and safari feels like a surreal expedition. The silence is mesmerising except for the rustle of the grass and then, there is a hush as we come to a standstill.

Q.1. Who was in the Kaziranga National Park?

Q.2. What did the author prefer for the morning safari?
